

THE DENSITY OF A JAPANESE POPULATION.—We were nearly an hour in traversing the suburbs of this vast city, before we seemed to gain the great thoroughfare, filled to overflowing with an immense but very orderly crowd. There was a pushing and squeezing, and from time to time a desperate attempt was made by the police on some luckless wights in the front. Blows on the bare head were dealt furiously on all; but the weapon was a fan, and although in their hands a very effective one, it could hardly do much mischief. We came at last to the main river, spanned by a bridge 300 yards long, well and solidly built, below which there is an island, covered with houses, in the midst of the stream something like the island of St. Louis in the Seine. Not a trace of hostile feeling was to be seen anywhere, though the curiosity was great to see the foreign ministers. Here, indeed, as might be noticed at a glance, was a vast population, with whom trade was the chief occupation; and at every step evidences of the greatest activity were visible. Piled up near the bridge I noticed glazed tiles for drains, and earthen jars for coffins—the Japanese being buried as he lives, with his heels tucked up under him—an arrangement which has at least the advantage of saving space in the cemeteries, still further economized by burning the bodies of the poorer classes, and merely burying their ashes in a jar of small dimensions. The Japanese have some strange superstitions about either sleeping or being buried with their head to the North. In every sleeping-room at the resting-places we found the points of the compass marked on the ceiling, and my Japanese servant would on no account let my bed be made up in any but the right direction. [Bayard Taylor, in "Travels in Japan."

IF I WERE NOT ALEXANDER, I WOULD BE ALEXIS.—Col. Alexander, the well-known commander of Castle Thunder, and who is now the business manager of the Memphis Appeal, must be a happy man—supremely so. At the Alexis grand ball, or the grand Alexis ball—and we don't know which—he had the felicity of forming one of a set in a dance with the young Russian. It was the second dance, and we copy from the Avalanche: "The second set, also the lancers, was better arranged and better executed. It consisted of the Grand Duke and Miss Bettie Vance, Mr. F. A. Tyler, Jr., and Miss Eunice Conn, Col. Alexander and Mrs. R. H. Pinson, and Lieut. T. deeder and Miss Mary Allen."

POOR DIK YATES.—Dick Yates, once Governor of Illinois and Senator in Congress, is fast going to the bad. The other day he visited a banking house in Springfield, Illinois, and demanded fifty dollars. It was refused him, whereupon he visited a saloon and asked for a drink of whiskey. The bar-tender told him he had none, whereupon he grew violent and he was put out by force. Forsaken, friendless and an outcast, he is now a perfect wreck, and even his friends have come to the conclusion that the only service he can render is to die.

THE majority of the Congressional Ku Klux Committee having obtained the authority of Congress to print their report, the minority are now vigorously at work getting ready their exhibit. The Democrats who speak without partisan bias on the subject regard the investigation as a drawn battle, the outrages of the Ku Klux being offset by the mismanagement and corruption of the "carpet-bag governments of the Southern" States.

A gentleman who arrived here yesterday afternoon on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, informs us that Henry Berry Lowry and his gang were at Moss Neck yesterday as the train passed there. One of them was standing on the platform of a liquor shop at that place, while the others were in the store. No attempt was made against them.—Wilmington Journal.

THE population of the little Kingdom of Greece, according to the last census for 1870, amounted to 4,457,894 inhabitants, of which 754,176 were males, and 703,718 females. Comparing the present returns with those of 1860, an increase is shown of 132,515 souls. Athens has a population of 44,510.

THE editor of a "Commune" newspaper, published in London, thus ends an article: "Beware, citizens of Paris, of the year 1871 this will be the year of the great revenge! We need 30,000 heads, and we shall have them!"

ALL THE YEAR ROUND, and in all parts of the world, the elements of disease are present in the air, the soil and the water, in a greater or less degree, and therefore the GREAT VEGETABLE ANTIDOTE to these invisible enemies of health, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is invaluable as a household medicine at all seasons and in every latitude. At no period of the year is a regulating and corrective medicine more needed than toward the close of winter, when the sun and rain are beginning to break up the winter blockade, and from the softening soil arises that terrible miasma, which weighs like an incubus upon the vital machinery, and depresses the animal spirits. It is then that the seeds of intermittent and remittent fevers, of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, of obstinate stomach complaints, of disorders of the liver and bowels, and a whole host of pulmonary and nervous complaints are sown.

The best, the surest way to prevent this disastrous seeding is to invigorate and refresh the system with a course of the Bitters. If this precaution be taken now, there will be no danger of the miasmatic germs taking root in the fluids and tissues of the body, and bringing forth the terrible fruit in the spring. This is the time for prevention. Remember that vigor is the only safeguard against the virus of disease, and that Hostetter's Bitters is the purest, the safest, the most powerful and perfect invigorant ever administered, either as protective medicine or a remedy. A change of season approaches which almost always proves more or less disastrous to persons of a weak, nervous organization. Brace up at once with the invigorating tonic of the age. Purge from the blood all morbid humors, strengthen the nerves, and regulate and purify the secretions with the Vegetable Elixir, which combines the juices of the finest medicinal roots, herbs and barks, with the most wholesome of all diffusive stimulants.

NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.

A PERFECTLY clear preparation in one bottle, as easily applied as water, for restoring to Gray Hair its natural color and youthful appearance; to eradicate and prevent dandruff; to promote the growth of the Hair and stop its falling out. It is ENTIRELY HARMLESS and perfectly free from any poisonous substance, and will therefore take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. Numerous testimonials have been sent us from many of our most prominent citizens. In everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, Crystal Discovery is perfect. It is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur or Nitrate of Silver. It does not soil the clothes or scalp, is agreeably perfumed and makes one of the best dressings for the Hair in use. It restores the color of the Hair more perfect and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from three to ten days, virtually feeding the roots of the Hair with all the healthy qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition; it restores the decayed and induces a new growth of the Hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives the Hair a pleasing and elegant appearance.

We call especial attention to the fact that a limited number of small trial bottles can be had by those wishing to try it. You will notice that in pursuing this course, our aim is to convince by the actual merits of the article. ARTHUR NATTANS, Inventor and Proprietor, Washington, D. C. For sale in Columbia by Dr. C. H.
